Overview

The “Energy Storage Pricing Insights” report published by solar and energy storage pricing platform Anza Renewables for the second quarter has highlighted the sharpest spike in battery energy storage system (BESS) prices since 2021, when post-pandemic supply chain issues roiled the industry. Does battery storage cost reduce over time?

The projections are developed from an analysis of recent publications that include utility-scale storage costs. The suite of publications demonstrates wide variation in projected cost reductions for battery storage over time.

How much does battery storage cost?

Recent data reported by the National Renewable Energy Laboratory indicated that costs for battery storage averaged $477 per kWh for a 240-MWh system. The U.S. Energy Information Administration estimated that energy storage installed capacity nearly doubled last year with more than 15 GW in projects installed.

How much does a commercial lithium battery energy storage system cost?

In 2025, the typical cost of a commercial lithium battery energy storage system, which includes the battery, battery management system (BMS), inverter (PCS), and installation, is in the following range: $280 - $580 per kWh (installed cost), though of course this will vary from region to region depending on economic levels.

Are battery storage costs based on long-term planning models?

Battery storage costs have evolved rapidly over the past several years, necessitating an update to storage cost projections used in long-term planning models and other activities. This work documents the development of these projections, which are based on recent publications of storage costs.
