Who makes Thermik thermal protectors?

Thermik develops new products each year. As a result, the company owns more patents and property rights for thermal protectors than all other competitors combined. This means Thermik Gerätebau GmbH is the world's leading manufacturer of innovative, high-quality thermal protectors.

Who is Thermik Gerätebau GmbH?

According to this auditor, Thermik Gerätebau GmbH is one of the 75 most efficient and 100 most innovative SMEs in Germany. The corporate headquarters was moved from Baden-Württemberg to Sondershausen in the municipality of Kyffhäuserland in the state of Thuringia in 2011 in order to prepare the company for the challenges of the future.

Why is thermal insulation important in Germany?

Moreover, the global relevance of the thermal insulation sector is notable, as it impacts construction practices and energy policies worldwide. Companies in Germany are also increasingly focused on eco-friendly materials, which aligns with consumer preferences for sustainable products.

Who invented thermal protectors?

Marcel P. Hofsaess has invented a greater number of new thermal protectors than anyone else in the world – by a large margin. He alone is cited in as many property rights as all other inventors in the sector who come between second and seventh place.
