How much battery storage do we need in Ireland & Northern Ireland?

In 2021 energy experts Baringa estimated that to hit the 80 per cent renewable electricity targets in Ireland and Northern Ireland by 2030 we would need at least 1,700 MW of battery storage on the island of Ireland. Every battery storage project connected makes our electricity grid more secure and helps to integrate wind and solar power.

Which battery energy storage systems are available in Ireland?

The Kylemore Battery Energy Storage System in Dublin went into operation in 2023 and has the capability of providing 30MW of fast-acting storage. The South Wall Battery Energy Storage System went live in 2023 and has the capability of providing 30MW of fast-acting energy storage.

Why is battery storage important in Ireland?

This showcases the growing capacity of Ireland's energy storage systems and their pivotal role in ensuring energy supply during times of peak demand. Battery storage is becoming increasingly essential in managing the intermittent nature of renewable energy sources and reducing our reliance on fossil fuels.

What was Ireland's biggest achievement in battery storage in March?

March also saw a significant achievement in battery storage. On March 14th, Ireland recorded its highest-ever level of battery discharge from grid-scale storage, with nearly 300 MW of power being discharged at peak.
