Netherlands grid-side energy storage power station

Overview

---

Will RWE build a battery energy storage system in the Netherlands?

Utility and IPP RWE will build a 7.5MW/11MWh battery energy storage system (BESS) in the Netherlands with grid-forming inertia capabilities.

What is a battery energy storage system (BESS)?

RWE has officially commissioned its first large-scale Battery Energy Storage System (BESS) in the Netherlands at the Eemshaven power station. With a total capacity of 35 megawatts (MW) and a storage capacity of 41 megawatt hours (MWh), the system will be crucial in balancing the power supply and demand within the Dutch electricity grid.

What's happening at RWE's Moerdijk power station?

At RWE's Moerdijk power station, commissioning of its ultra-fast synthetic inertia battery energy storage system is progressing well. With an installed capacity of 7.5 MW and a storage capacity of 11 MWh, this battery is one of the first of its kind on mainland Europe to maintain grid stability, using highly innovative technology.

Is RWE's battery energy storage system inertia-ready?

Inertia-ready: RWE's innovative battery energy storage system in Moerdijk starts commercial operation RWE's first inertia-ready battery energy storage system (BESS) has started commercial operation on the site of the company's power plant in Moerdijk, the Netherlands. It is the first of its kind in operation in the Central European grid.
